

Therianthropic Trance Dance – 31x44 cm

In the artist's words: "In this painting, I show imaginary therianthropic images (human bodies with animal heads) of ancient people who lived about 20 000 years ago, dancing in a trance. Their bodies were covered with animal skins and feathers which were decorated and painted. The idea was to transform themselves into supernatural beings. They imagined that they would float into space and emerge into the next world through the rock face of caves.

Rhythm – 32x49 cm

Bark Fragments – 21x28 cm

Spirits of another age – 76x51 cm

Strata of Early Man I. – 57x40 cm

Strata of Early Man II. - 64x25 cm

Return to:

<http://www.art-archives-southafrica.ch/MIEDZINSKI.htm>