GRAHAMSTOWN GROUP

"This group owes its origins to the emergence, uniquely in South African art, of a school of young artists clustered around the central dominating influence of a single painter — Brian Bradshaw.

Bradshaw was appointed to the chair of Fine Arts of Rhodes University, Grahamstown, in 1960. He was then only 36 years old, an active and successful painter and a highly positive personality.

Before long there existed in Grahamstown a small circle of youthful professional painters who shared many similarities of outlook. Their mutual aesthetic philosophy achieved certain impact when they began to exhibit as a group in 1964 and the first evidence of a concerted artistic movement made its appearance in South Africa."
